O. FIELD.

SIR JOHN ABBOTT AND THE PREMIERSHIP.

The telegraphic news announcing the continued illness of the Premier and especially the attack which overtook the statesman at Ottawa about a week ago, is learned with deep regret by the members of the Conservative party throughout the Dominion and is causing considerable anxiety in political circles.

The Premier has not had good health for some years back, and it seems to be growing worse rather than improving.

It will be remembered that some time ago the honorable gentleman had expressed a wish to his colleagues to retire from the political battle-field, but it would appear that either he was prevailed upon by the ministry to abandon his intention, or that maturer reflection convinced him that the political situation was too unsettled to make such a step judicious at that time.

The acceptance by him of the leadership of the government, it is now generally admitted, was with the greatest hesitancy and reluctance. It was only after every possible effort was brought to bear upon him, that he decided to accept the Premiership.

Since his acceptance of the honor he has unselfishly devoted his time, his energy and his talents in the conscientious discharge of his arduous public duties, and has earned for himself the enviable reputation of dealing with more business in less time than any of his predecessors in office.

While thoroughly going in the discharge of his official duties, he is ever the gentleman, courteous to a most observant degree, to his colleagues, to members of the house and to delegations or persons who may have public or private business with him.

It is to be feared that the labor and anxiety of office, doubly trying to a man who conscientiously endeavors to faithfully discharge his duties to the public, are undermining his already weak constitution, and having regard to the repeated warnings he has lately received, it is very probable that his retirement may be looked for at an early date.

We earnestly hope, however, that he may be long spared to the public service, but should it otherwise decree there need be no cause for alarm in the political arena for parliament now possesses in the Conservative ranks many men who would rise to the occasion and make able administrators, when the country could place every confidence.

Towering, however, above all was name Sir John Thompson as the man most fitted to succeed Mr. Abbott. He has developed wonderfully as a party leader in the House of Commons during the last two sessions.

To quote the words of a contemporary:

"The brilliant Nova Scotian has developed wonderfully as a party leader in the last few years. As a parliamentary debater he has had no peer in the house of commons, save when Edward Blake had a seat there. As leader of the House since Sir John Macdonald's death he has displayed great shrewdness and has made no blunders. The appreciation that is felt for him by the supporters of the Government was proved by the frequency with which he was called to address public meetings in Ontario during the general and bye elections, and by the handsome gift, during the recent session, by his supporters in Parliament, of a splendid painting representing all the Conservative M. P.'s and Senators. Not too far gone in years, in robust health, thoroughly equipped in all respects as a successful political leader, Sir John Thompson would draw to himself the united support of the Conservative party throughout the Dominion and would make a Premier in whom the party would feel the most confidence."

Altogether the political outlook, forebodes trouble to Mr. Gladstone.

The last year or two, and the effect of the long illness of Mr. Gladstone, has been the cause of a great deal of speculation as to the future of the Liberal party.

Mr. Edward B. Ke, the Canadian member of the House of Commons, has expressed his opinion that it is no general belief that an agreement will be the result.

While the address in reply to the speech from the throne has been discussed and adopted in both Houses, Gladstone's motion by way of amendment of "no confidence" was carried by a majority of forty.

The speech informed Her Majesty that the Liberal government had been defeated in the House of Commons, and that the Conservative party had been re-elected.

THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

LORD SALISBURY RESIGNS THE PREMIERSHIP.

MR. GLADSTONE CALLED UPON TO FORM A NEW MINISTRY FOR THE 4TH TIME.

The Address in Reply to the Queen's Speech Discussed and Adopted.

The political situation in Britain is daily growing more and more interesting and perplexing. It looks as though a serious crisis would soon be reached in which the three branches of the governing body—the Sovereign, Lords and Commons would lack the least degree of unanimity on the Irish question.

The Queen, it is reported on good authority, sent for the Duke of Devonshire, (when she holds in high regard, and whom she would fain make Premier, if he were willing and the country would be willing to accept him) and discussed with him the formation of a new cabinet that would be as little objectionable as possible to her conservative notions, for Her Majesty regards home rule as only one step short of absolute treason, and its promoters as enemies of the throne. The Duke found Her Majesty laboring under greater emotion than he had ever seen her display. The Queen asked the Duke abruptly whether there was any way to avoid sending for Mr. Gladstone. Her Majesty added in substance, "To Mr. Gladstone personally I have no objection; but I do object to the separation of my kingdom, to which, I understand he has pledged himself."

The Duke replied that while he himself deeply regretted the course taken by Mr. Gladstone, which had compelled him to leave that gentleman's side politically, to strive for the maintenance of the union, yet he felt obliged to recognize that a majority had been elected to the House of Commons favorable to Mr. Gladstone's views. The Queen, however, has continued to make no concealment of her antipathy to Mr. Gladstone as the home rule champion, and it is believed that she will yet place some obstruction in the way of home rule.

Again it can not be doubted for a moment that the House of Lords will reject Mr. Gladstone's Irish Bill and even presuming that the Bill should pass that aristocratic and Conservative Assembly, it is likely, having regard to the Queen's expressed opinion as to the effect of the Act, that Her Majesty would exercise Her Royal prerogative, and refuse to assent to the measure. The Radical members are eager to open fire on the Upper House and declare that if the Lords evince a party disposition towards the House of Commons, the latter will, at the first hint of trouble, refuse to vote the salaries of officials connected with the House of Lords. The motto of the Radicals is "no nonsense from the House of Lords."

Altogether the political outlook, forebodes trouble to Mr. Gladstone. The last year or two, and the effect of the long illness of Mr. Gladstone, has been the cause of a great deal of speculation as to the future of the Liberal party.

Mr. Edward B. Ke, the Canadian member of the House of Commons, has expressed his opinion that it is no general belief that an agreement will be the result.

While the address in reply to the speech from the throne has been discussed and adopted in both Houses, Gladstone's motion by way of amendment of "no confidence" was carried by a majority of forty.

The speech informed Her Majesty that the Liberal government had been defeated in the House of Commons, and that the Conservative party had been re-elected.

The speech informed Her Majesty that the Liberal government had been defeated in the House of Commons, and that the Conservative party had been re-elected.

to the terms of Her Majesty's proclamation of June 28, by which the late parliament was dissolved. Previous to that dissolution, the speech added, the business of the session was completed; therefore, it is not necessary for Parliament now to continue its session at an unusual period of the year for the transaction of financial or legislative business. Her Majesty expressed the hope that when Parliament meets again at the customary season it will again direct attention to measures of social and domestic improvement, and that it will continue to advance in the path of useful and beneficent legislation, which has been judiciously followed at previous sessions.

This speech of the Sovereign was the first one that foreboded no policy in the history of Parliament. There was nothing in the speech to criticize.

In discussing the address in reply Mr. Gladstone said:

"When a home rule bill should be presented to the House of Lords, they would have before them the most important question ever submitted to their house, and a question of deepest interest to themselves. If the lords should reject the bill the government would not be compelled to resign. He would decline to say more on that subject at present."

In his remarks on the address, even Lord Salisbury admitted that the speech was like a sealed envelope put into the hands of a preacher going into the pulpit and when opened found to contain nothing. The Government had no measures to present to Parliament. He confessed that he had been disposed to abandon the speech altogether, but found owing to the conservatism of the opposition that could only be done by general consent. They had now arrived at a stage when the House of Commons exercised a prerogative peculiarly its own of selecting men whose measures would come afterwards. When these men were adopted by the House of Commons then the House of Peers would share with the other House the responsibility for their measures. When these measures are presented to them there will be no difficulty in criticising them. Perhaps then the Liberal lords would abandon their present conspiracy of silence. Then also the peers would perform their duty with that wisdom of decision upon which the House established its right and reputation in days past.

Meanwhile Lord Salisbury has placed his resignation in the hands of Her Majesty at Osborne, and it has been accepted.

It has leaked out that his interview with Her Majesty was not wholly formal and the Queen expressed deep and evidently sincere regret at parting with the Conservative leader as Her chief adviser.

Gladstone has been received at Osborne, and has received the Queen's commands to form a new ministry.

LONDON, Aug. 16. The following is an official list of Gladstone's cabinet: Secretary of state for foreign affairs—Earl Roseberry.

Lord Chancellor—Baron Henshall. Chancellor of the exchequer—Sir William Vernon Harcourt.

Home secretary—Herbert Henry Asquith.

Secretary of state for India—Earl of Kimberley.

Secretary of state for the colonies—Marquis of Ripon.

Secretary of state for war—Right Hon. Campbell Bannerman.

First Lord of the Admiralty—Earl Spencer.

Chief Secretary of state for Ireland—Rt. Hon. John Morley.

Secretary of state for Scotland—Rt. Hon. Sir Geo. Otto Trevelyan.

President of the Board of Trade—Rt. Hon. A. J. Mundella.

President of the Local Government Board—Rt. Hon. H. H. Fowler.

Postmaster General—Lord St. John.

Under Secretary of State—Lord St. John.

President of the Council—Earl of Kimberley.

Vice-president of the council of education—Arthur Herbert Dyke Acland. Lord Loughborough is vicerey for Ireland.

Mr. Gladstone is prime minister and first lord of the treasury.

There is no doubt that Henry Labouchere feels slighted in not having been invited to any office. It is understood that Mr. Gladstone induced a court friend to sound the query as to whether he would accept Mr. Labouchere's name, and that her majesty dismissed the subject shortly that it was not considered politic for Mr. Gladstone to himself suggest the radical editor's appointment.

The absence of the progressive element from the cabinet is being commented upon unfavorably by the more advanced section of the Liberals. Some uneasiness is felt lest this presage the sacrifice of all reforms except the particular one of Irish home rule, which Mr. Gladstone has so much at heart. It is believed that the premier himself was desirous of having new blood among his colleagues, but yielded to the advice of old friends and associates who did not share his views on this point.

No matter what strength the new Cabinet may give Mr. Gladstone he will have to deal with as strong a minority as ever assembled in Parliament. The Unionists are firm in their resolve and what with the split in the Irish party, and the opposition of the Lords, Mr. Gladstone's prospects of placing a Home Rule Bill as final law on the Statute Books are not the brightest. That the Bill may eventually be defeated and a new election necessitated, is in the region of possibility.

No business will be done this special session. It is expected Parliament will be prorogued about the 22nd inst.

The Moose Jaw Times.

"Not clinging to some ancient law,
Not mastered by some modern trend,
Not swift nor slow to change; but firm."

FRIDAY, AUGUST 19, 1892.

THE C. P. R. ANNUAL PIC-NIC AND EXCURSION.

Every year for the past six years, the employees of this road and their many friends anxiously look forward to the holding of their annual picnic and excursion.

This year the Moose Jaw Divisional Employees, united with their brethren of the Broadview Division, in holding a joint picnic at Qu'Appelle Station. James Rollo and W. W. Neeland were Chairman and Treasurer respectively, of the Moose Jaw Committee, and T. S. Rutherford and H. Hinton performed similar services for the Broadview Employees.

The profits of the event were to be devoted in equal proportions to the Moose Jaw and Broadview library funds.

The day, though warm, was all that could be wished, to make the outing a success.

The train left Moose Jaw with about 500 excursionists at 7.40 a. m. At every station along the line, the number was augmented by farmers and section men till Regina was reached. Here it was presumed that not less than 200 more would join the excursion party, as in days of yore, but alas, the committee were doomed to disappointment for only some thirty or forty joined the merry throng. The disappointment over the "Soo Road," seems to have dampened the feelings of the Regina people towards the C. P. R.

The N. W. Mounted Police Band however, which had been engaged for the occasion, came aboard, and throughout the day furnished most excellent music to the pic-nickers.

Our Lacrosse boys, who have been practicing every night for the past three or four weeks, were even more disappointed than the committee or the other excursionists. They expected to see the Regina Club get aboard but the Queen city boys did not materialize. It will be remembered that on Dominion Day the two clubs played in this town, when the Regina club, or rather the Regina-Wascana club gained the day by 2 goals to 0.

Our boys had a team with them on the present occasion which they felt could defeat even these united clubs, being in good form and well practiced.

The reason of the Regina Club's "funk," is alleged to be their inability to secure seven allies from the Wascana club. It was stated that the Wascana boys were willing to go to Qu'Appelle but refused to play, with the Regina 5—save as Wascana, stating it was unfair that Regina should have the benefit of their play without sharing with them their club any honors that might be gained.

Be this as it may, Regina showed the "white feather," and our boys as well as the whole of the excursionists were sadly disappointed over their non-attendance.

They hope shortly to arrange a return game, with the Regina's and are confident of giving a good account of themselves, even though a partnership may be arranged for the occasion between the Regina and Wascana clubs.

The train arrived at Qu'Appelle Station about 11 a. m. At the same time the Broadview excursion train arrived, bringing some 400 excursionists.

The excursionists were accompanied by the Broadview train, and on the picnic grounds, contributed not a little to the day's entertainment.

When the passengers disembarked, everyone sought to secure what they came for, namely a day's thorough enjoyment.

The first thing on the programme was dinner. Good substantial meals were furnished at the Leland House and Queen's Hotel—both well-managed hostilities.

Many of the excursionists, who had brought their lunch baskets with them, forthwith wanted their way to the beautiful grounds near the racecourse track, about a half-mile east of the town. There, under the shade of lovely groves of trees, many family or friendly groups might be found enjoying their noonday repast, in the most primitive manner.

After dinner a walk through the town was in order. Situated in the heart of a fine Agricultural District, Qu'Appelle shows every evidence of rapid yet substantial growth. There is an air of business about the place that can not but convince and outsiders that it will one day be a large and prosperous town. Want of sufficient space prevents us giving a full description of the town and its business places.

After strolling about for an hour, all betook themselves to the picnic grounds to view the sports of the day.

The first attraction we met was the Loyal Orange California Moose Jaw Swing operated by Wesley Timmins and company.

Next on our left we saw the partnership firm of Healey and McDonald, and Co. of Moose Jaw appraising the thirty multitude with refreshing tropical fruits also supplying the inveterate smoker, with the finest Havanas. They did a most thriving business during the day, it being impossible at times to get within six feet of their counter.

To our right, we saw a large box of the Women's Guild of the local church of England, wherein faner goods at moderate prices were sold. Refreshments could also be obtained here.

Edisons Phonograph, near by was singing the sweetest songs to eager listeners.

The first event in the list of sports was the Lacrosse Match, Regina vs. Moose Jaw, for $25. As we stated above, Regina was conspicuous by its absence.

The committee however, asked the Moose Jaw boys to give an Exhibition Game, which they accordingly did, the "home" playing the "defence."

For the space of an hour an excellent game was played which was thoroughly enjoyed by the people.

During the play the Police Band enlivened the proceedings by rendering some selections in a manner that defies our criticism.

The next event was a Base Ball match between the Moose Jaw and Moosemin clubs. Moosemin failed to turn up and consequently no game was played.

The next event was a football match between the Moosemin and Broadview clubs, but owing to the absence of both clubs there was no game.

The excursionists were much disappointed at the three chief events thus fizzling out and though it may not have been the fault of the Railway Committee, yet unquestionably this failure to carry out the most important part of the programme will have an injurious effect when the next annual excursion is held.

The Athletic sports were good. The entries were numerous and the contests were entered into with zeal and earnestness.

The following is the list of the prize winners in the different events:—

Half Mile Race.—1st W. E. Nims, 2nd Geo. Moulding.

Quarter Mile Race.—1st Judson Battell, 2nd E. Fraser.

Three Legged Race.—1st Thomas and Judson Battell, 2nd Fraser and Rowan.

Boys' Race under 16 years.—1st Thorburn, 2nd Davidson, 3rd Cleverly.

Running Long Jump.—1st Rowan 16 feet 9 1/2 inches, 2nd J. Battell.

Hop Step and Jump.—1st Rowan 37 feet 6 1/2 inches, 2nd Wismer.

100 Yard Dash.—1st Williamson, 2nd Rowan, 3rd Lafontaine.

Boys' Race 1/2 mile under 14 years.—

1st Davidson, 2nd Cleverly, 3rd Grover.

Standing Long Jump.—1st Rowan 9 feet 10 1/2 inches, 2nd Hogg.

A running horse race between Ralph B., a black horse, and a grey, was the most exciting sport of the day. The horses ran in good time and were well matched. Ralph B. won the first two heats, the black horse taking second place. The race was best 2 in 3.

During the afternoon dancing was arranged in by the young people, the music being furnished by the Police Orchestra. Mr. Thomas Cooper of Moose Jaw acted as floor manager and caller off.

At 12 o'clock the excursionists enjoyed their evening repast in the same manner as their dinner, and an hour later, boarded their respective trains "Home and Bound."

Both trains steamed out of the station at 2 o'clock.

On the route home, when Regina was reached our horses betook themselves to the station platform and gave three cheers for the "Regina Defenders," and three more for "Regina and the Soo Road." When Pasqua was reached the irrepressible Rob Martin, who was acting as spokesman on the excursion train, created considerable amusement by announcing "Pasqua, the next station. Change cars for all points south on the Moose Jaw and Soo Road."

Moose Jaw was reached at about 2 o'clock, our popular engineer, Jack Nelson, having made the run in 2 hours—most excellent time.

This constituted a most successful excursion, in so far as the day and attendance were concerned, and though the excursionists were, in some respects disappointed in regard to the sports all agreed that they had thoroughly enjoyed the day's outing and their visit to Qu'Appelle station.

Long life to the C. P. R. boys and may their next excursion prove a greater success.

We would suggest that the next picnic take place in some point on the Moose Jaw and Soo road, and that the Regina people be invited as guests. Fine attendance and interest might in the manner be secured.

LAW AND ORDER

The recent manifestations of the spirit of mob law in Calgary have called forth the denunciations of preachers of that town. One minister said the mob had violated the rights of people who were in this country, not by their own country, not by their own wishes, but who had been forced to enter into a commercial treaty, though they were anxious to live amongst themselves and keep their ports closed against outside nations. In consequence of the commercial treaty Great Britain had promised to protect Chinese entering her dominions. No matter, he continued, what might be brought against these people as citizens nothing half so bad could be adduced against them as the act of Christian nations, who had forced opium upon them at the mouth of the cannon. He enlarged on the fact that the harm already done by the riot would be incalculably increased by allowing the parties who took part in it to go unpunished.

Another reverend gentleman, referring to the riot, spoke as follows: "Throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion our town stands out as disgraced, and no steps have yet been taken to retrieve the good name which she heretofore has enjoyed. We may be proud of the growth of our town and we may well be proud of the progress which it has made within the last few years, the massive stone blocks it boasts of, the neat appearance it presents, but so long as the outrage which was committed against an innocent and harmless portion of our citizens during the past week (I refer to the attack on the Chinamen), remains, so long remains a blot on the fair name of our virgin city." Continuing he stated that there are no English men, no Canadians in Calgary. We are all citizens, each as much entitled to the protection of life and property as another.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Provincial Government of Quebec, has decided to call the Legislature together early in November. The session will in all probability be stormy, principally on account of the measures of taxation which have created such unusual discontent all over the province.

The seat in the House of Commons formerly occupied by Mr. Labouchere has been taken by Sir Charles Dike.

It is estimated that over 100,000,000 of people now speak the English language, over 60,000,000 German, and over 41,000,000 French.

Christopher Robinson, Q. C., who has been acting in conjunction with Hon. C. H. Tupper in the hearing an enquiry, arrived in Toronto last week. Mr. Robinson states that the arbitration commission will begin its proceedings in England next spring and that its decision will settle the arbitration question for ever.

The American edition of the Revue of Reviews for August, which is just to hand, is, as usual, crowded full of entertaining reading. The leading article is a character sketch of Grover Cleveland by Geo. F. Parker. The frontpiece is a large cut of Mr. Cleveland. There is also a good cut of the Hon. Edward Blake.

The Rockwood recount in Manitoba took place recently. It resulted in the confirmation of Hon. Spender Jackson's election by a majority of one. As he was allowed six votes at a remote polling station where there are but two available votes, and as crookedness there at least is apparent, the Opposition have decided to appeal to a higher court.

The Dauphin recount resulted in the return of Mr. Burrows, the Government candidate, by nine votes.

It is stated that the wheat of this country is in favor in England. The judges of wheat at the Millers' and Bakers' Royal exhibition of London testify that it would be most valuable to British millers for mixing with English wheat, as when milled together they produce flour of good strength and good flavor. Fyfe also recommends itself to the judges on account of its clean condition and uniformity. But in the report our wheat is designated as "Canadian No. 1 Hard." No. 1 hard wheat is grown only in Manitoba and the Territories. Who has given the authority to change the name of our wheat?

The Manitoba says, in its July issue: "Daily the advantage which our great transcontinental line, the C. P. R., is to us in this city and province becomes more and more apparent. Australians, New Zealanders, gentlemen from Borneo, Java, the Spice Islands, Burma, India, China and Japan, all registered at our hotels, admire our spacious streets, lined as they are with buildings which indicate our belief in our future, and doubtless speak in their homes of the energy which has built up the great city in a couple of decades. When questioned, these gentlemen have but one story—admiration for the magnificent boats of the C. P. R. which have brought them with safety and speed from the far east, and saved them the horrible broiling of the Red sea and Suez canal route, while the scenery so grand and diversified since they left the Pacific coast, the politeness and attention on the C. P. R. cars, have evidently greatly impressed them."

The C. P. R. has been the means of attracting the eyes of the civilized world towards Canada.

We are glad that there are a few common sense newspapers in the United States. The following we take from the New York Evening Post:

It must not be supposed that the leading papers in the United States back up the tail-twisting politicians of both parties in their "retaliation" craze. The New York Evening Post, for example, says:

"It is quite probable that the Canadians could do us more harm, so far as relates to canals, than we could do them. They claim that they will soon finish their own canal at Sault Ste. Marie, and what would be our situation if in retaliation for our excluding them from our canal, they were to close the Welland canal to us? It is obvious that a considerable derangement of commerce would take place, which would involve a mass of most complicated relations between the grain-producers, the owners of vessels, and the railroads. What we should especially apprehend would be the undertaking by our Government of a great waterway that should take place of the Welland canal, an enterprise which it is safe to say would cost in the end a hundred times as much as what we are now losing by Canadian discrimination."

GENERAL NOTES.

Mr. Newsome (showing visitor through his reputed ancestral halls)—And this is the suit my great-grandfather wore when he gave up his heart's blood during the Revolution.

Miss Gotham (looking in vain for bullet holes or other marks)—Ah!—was your great-grandfather killed while in bathing, Mr. Newsome?

Is She a Murderess?

FALL RIVER, MASS., Aug. 11.—The arrest of Miss Lizzie Borden, charged with the murder of her father and mother, was brought about at 6 o'clock this evening. Even though the community has been in some measure prepared for this terrible outcome of the pending inquest, Lizzie Borden's arrest caused an immense sensation. She was lodged in jail and access was denied everybody, even her sister Emma and her counsel coming under the ban. She was driven through the streets with her face veiled, but when she lifted the veil at the warden's residence her almost masculine countenance betrayed no emotion. It wore the same set expression which has been noticeable since the tragedy. It is believed that her arrest would not have been ventured upon unless some positive evidence had resulted from the continued session of the inquest to-day.

Monkeying with Mars.

When Schiaparelli made his famous map of Mars, showing the so-called canal system, it is within the bounds of possibility that what he observed was a signal service devised by the scientific residents of that planet to attract attention on the Earth. The astronomers participating in the present craze cannot find any trace of the Schiaparelli parallel lines, but what, it may be asked, was to have prevented the people on Mars from removing them in the meantime, seeing that no result came of their enterprise? How were they to know that the scientists of the Earth were all the while engrossing their brains to open up communication with this end? Sir Francis Galton thinks there is yet some life in the old project to throw flashes from mirrors upon Mars. Not forgetting also the favorite scheme of geometrical figures it is not imprudent to say that the resources of human ingenuity for achieving the end desired have not yet been exhausted. For instance, if a great choir of singers were to be gathered in some obscure and wild region, where they would not be likely to disturb the rest of the world, and if they would persist in singing Trava-ra-boom-de-aye, Annie Rooney, or some equally popular ditty, that might fetch them. It is hardly possible that Mars could stand it.

Sir Daniel Wilson.

The University of Toronto has just suffered loss by the death of a man who has conferred upon it a reputation which extends throughout Canada. In his younger days, a patient student, an enthusiastic antiquarian, and a hard worker, Daniel Wilson carried these traits with him throughout life. "Memorials of Edinburgh" and the "Archæology of Scotland" were the works which brought him reputation in his native country, and the appointment as Professor of History and English Literature in University College, Toronto. Of the latter work, The British Quarterly Review said at the time: "This is no ordinary book. It is a mistake to say it will form an epoch in the study of 'the earlier antiquities of Scotland and of Britain at large.' Mr. Halton, the historian, pronounced it to be the most scientific treatment of the archaeological evidence of primitive history which had ever been written.

With such an introduction to the Canadian educational world, it is little wonder that Dr. Wilson proved successful from the first. It was not long after this appointment that he was offered and refused the Principship of McGill College, Montreal. The reason since given is that he was beginning to find his new sphere of labor a highly congenial one. And such it seems to have been during the succeeding forty years of a busy and useful life. His work as Lecturer, Examiner, and College Executive, has proved him possessed of not only literary wisdom, but of abundant energies, great tact, and vigorous common sense. His lectures on history have been marked by a clear philosophical perception and a broad toleration for opposing schools of thought.

His great work appeared in 1863, "Prehistoric Man: Remains into the Origin of Civilization in the Old and New Worlds," is a work upon which any man could well be satisfied to let his reputation rest. The Edinburgh Scotsman said at the time of publication:—

"It is a thoroughly good book; in its information fresh and ample, in its conclusions wise, in its arrangement judicious and clear, in its style vigorous, expressive and distinct. The topic is not only vast in range, complex in material and difficult from its nature, but brings the man who ventures to discuss it, into contact with momentous and perplexing questions touching the origin of civilization, the unity of the human race, and the time during which man has been a denizen of this planet. Dr. Wilson proves himself at all points equal to his task."

A list of the many other works written by Sir Daniel Wilson is hardly necessary. His name and that of Sir William Dawson, of McGill, are familiar wherever science and original research are known and valued. As an educationist he has placed Toronto University in the forefront of modern seats of learning. It ranks with Yale, Harvard and McGill upon this continent, and, in its course of instruction and results, can compare favorably with the great universities of the old land. Throughout Canada and many other countries will be found to-day men who sincerely mourn the death of a great teacher, and of one who did them individual service.

As a former President of the Canadian Institute, and of the Royal Society of Canada, as President for many years of the Young Men's Christian Association, and founder of the Boy's Home in Toronto, Sir Daniel will be missed. In many other spheres of Christian activity and educational influence he will be deeply regretted. Toronto loses in his death a citizen who did more for his race and a friend than we can well appreciate; Canada loses a man who has been honored by his Queen, and by many of the great scientific societies of the age; science and education lose a great and worthy exponent.

BOHARM.

The crops here are looking well, a little on the short side. The late rains have refreshed them greatly.

Mr. James Porters new house is nearing completion. It is said to be "the house of the district". Mrs. Porter and family expect to move in next week.

Having an pleasing are the order of the day.

Mr. Arnold is busy preparing a stone foundation for his new house.

Mr. Thomas Anger takes Mr. Gregory's place here on Sunday.

Mr. Mahlon Johnston is cutting barley this week.

Miss A. M. Barber returned to Regina this week after spending three weeks at Melbourne Farm visiting her sister.

Mrs. Night of Peterborough, Ont., is here visiting her father Mr. James Collins who has been very ill, but we are glad to say he is in a fair way to recovery.

Mrs. Geo. Williams of Fingal, Ont., is visiting her husband's ranch fifteen miles south-west of Boharm.

Mrs. Brotherhood, of St. Thomas, is paying her daughter, Mrs. Mahlon Johnston, a short visit.

Mr. R. K. Thompson, of Brice Burn Farm, is still detained in Ontario owing to the serious illness of his mother.

What might have been a serious accident occurred last week; while Mrs. M. Johnston and her mother were driving a wild broncho he became unmanageable. Fortunately help was at hand and no one hurt.

Last week the ladies of Boharm young and old went with their baskets out to the hills to see the hay makers and all voted on their return that they had a jolly good time.—Con.

Cheap Reading for Farmers.

We have made arrangements by which we are enabled to offer The Nor' West Farmer in conjunction with our own paper at a greatly reduced rate. The Nor' West Farmer, which was established in 1882, is still the only agricultural paper printed between Lake Superior and the Pacific Coast, having in that vast territory a much larger circulation than all other agricultural publications combined.

It is an illustrated paper, devoted to Live Stock, Dairying, Veterinary, Grain Growing, Poultry, Forestry, Gardening and every other detail of Northwest Farming, written by practical, experienced men of long residence here, and is specially adapted to the conditions of this region, to the farming of which it is the only paper in Canada exclusively devoted. Complete and accurate market reports are among its special features.

It is a journal that should be read by every man cultivating an acre of land, or owning a domestic animal in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories. As its name implies, it is edited especially to meet the requirements of the Great Fertile Belt of the Northwest. It is alike valuable to the Farmer, Rancher, Dairyman or Gardener.

The Moose Jaw Times (subscription $1.50 a year) and The Nor' West Farmer (subscription $1 a year) will be sent to any address, for one year, on receipt of $2.00, a saving of 50 cts., being thus effected on the price of two papers.

The Moose Jaw Times.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 19, 1892.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Mr. R. K. Thompson returned from the east on Sunday last.

Rev. W. C. Bunt, of Souris, Man., is visiting friends in town this week.

Miss Ethel Dickson, who for the past two weeks has been visiting friends in town, left on Sunday for Lumsden.

Mr. J. F. Watkins returned from Medicine Hat on Tuesday night. He looks well considering the siege of illness he has passed through. He leaves to-night for Winnipeg where he will probably undergo an operation.

During the absence of the editor a contributed account of the C.P.R. picnic found its way, through an error in the composing room, to the editorial page. The article should of course have appeared on either the first or local page.

The following pupils of the Moose Jaw School have successfully passed the entrance examination:—N. Saunders, L. R. Porter, F. Wilson, Geo. Porter, W. McWilliams, N. Bellamy, M. Latham.

The ticket stealer, George Keill, who was brought into prominent notice some weeks ago was tried summarily before Judge Richardson, on Wednesday. He was found guilty and sentenced to two months imprisonment in Regina gaol.

In addition to the championship gold medal for the senior ladies' singles in the Tennis Tournament, Mr. Croshaw presents a Louis XV Cup, open to any lady resident in Moose Jaw District three months prior to the date of the tournament (in any year) to become the property of the lady who shall win it two years in succession.

Mr. Watrous, of Guelph, Ont., is in town obtaining subscriptions to the Practical Home Physician, a work that has received the highest praise from the medical profession. It is a work that should be upon the bookshelves of every one living at a distance from a resident physician.

The marriage of Wm. Guntion of the Building and Bridge Department of the C. P. R. was celebrated yesterday evening at the Presbyterian Manse, Moose Jaw, by the Pastor, the Rev. Mr. Clay. The young bride, Miss Ida P. Harris, of Moosomin looked charming in a light brown travelling dress. Miss Lizzie Robinson of Swift Current a most attractive young lady performed the duties of bridesmaid. Mr. Austin McDonald of Moose Jaw officiated as groomsmen. After the interesting ceremony was over the happy couple drove to the Brunswick Hotel, where a wedding supper was served that reflected the greatest credit upon the host, Mr. Jas. Ostrander. The wedding cake (three stories and decorated with a vase of most beautiful flowers) was a work of art, both in regard to its quality and appearance. About 30 guests sat down to supper. Mr. W. J. Nelson in a neat and amusing speech proposed the health of the bride. The bridegroom made an appropriate reply.

Mr. T. D. Watson J.P. proposed health, happiness and prosperity to the bridegroom, which was drunk in bumper, not a heel-tap being left in the glasses. After supper the evening was spent in dancing and instrumental and vocal music till the small hours of the morning. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Guntion long life, health, wealth and happiness.

Magistrate's Court.

Seymour N. de P. Green, Justice of the Peace, Presiding.—Moose Jaw, 4 p. m., Aug. 18, 1892.

THE TOWN OF MOOSE JAW VS. JOHN SMITH.

This was a complaint laid at the instance of the town, by the town Constable that the Defendant was on the evening of Fair Day, the 3rd inst. drunk and disorderly in the said town.

After many witnesses had been examined for the prosecution the case was remanded till 7 p. m. bench-warrants in the meantime having been issued for defaulting witnesses.

7 p. m.—The prosecution concluded its case and defence examined their witnesses. After argument of Counsel the Justice dismissed the case and ordered the town to pay the costs.

THE TOWN VS. JOSEPH HUNTER.

This was a similar charge against Hunter tried, concurrently with the above case. Complaint dismissed and town ordered to pay costs.

Mr. W. J. Nelson appeared as Counsel for the Defendants in each case.

THOS. SMITH VS. HENRY BATTALL.

AUG. 10TH, 1892.

This was a complaint made by Mr. Smith that Henry Battall did on Sunday the 6th inst., in Moose Jaw use grossly insulting language to him, contrary to the provision of Town By-law No. 102.

After the hearing of witnesses for the prosecution, the case was remanded till Friday the 11th inst. at 8 p. m.

Aug. 11th 1892.—Evidence for the defence and evidence for the complainant in rebuttal given, and after argument.—Judgement was reserved till the 15th inst.

Aug. 15th 1892.—Judgement that the defendant is guilty, and that he be fined the sum of $5.00 and costs.

Mr. W. J. Nelson appeared for the prosecution.

The Pen Fakir and His Dupes.

We clip from the Calgary Herald the following, which voices our opinion in regard to the subject matter under discussion:

"The steel pen man, who is running a lottery in the public streets, claims a pedlar's license as a protection. This is quite to him. The anti-lottery, anti-gambling laws of Canada cannot be safely defied by the aid of a pedlar's license issued by the town of Calgary. A pedlar's license is exactly what it purports to be; it licenses a man to peddle or hawk his goods about town. It gives nobody a right to gamble or to encourage hundreds of others to gamble. It gives nobody a right to gather a crowd on the streets and block public thoroughfares. The laws of Canada against lotteries and gambling are as much in force here as they are in the vicinity of the Parliament building at Ottawa. Councillor Cushing, of the police committee, ordered the police to stop the steel pen man's operations on Saturday night, 6th inst., and very properly so; and we hope the course will be continued."

The facts alleged by the Herald, apply to Moose Jaw save that the man's operations were not checked here as in Calgary.

The pedlar's license, (that is, a license to peddle and hawk his goods around the town) was granted the fakir. The scope of this license is well understood.

See 7 of town by-law 102, passed last month, would be contravened by the license. It reads as follows:

"No person shall expose in any street, lane or public place in the said municipality any table, sheet cloth, device or contrivance of any kind upon which or with or by which any game of chance or hazard can be played, for the purpose of playing at such game or gambling and no such person shall play at or upon any such table or device or contrivance or gambling in any of the streets, highways or public places of the said municipality, with cards, dice or any contrivance whatsoever."

Yet a license is granted and Mayor, Councillors, Town Constables and prominent merchants attend the fakir's gambling contrivance, block up the sidewalk and wink at an evasion of the criminal laws of Canada and the town by-law. This should not be so and our by-laws should not be passed to be openly contravened.

Of course the corpulent Fakir is only advertising his pens, and is willing to spend lots of money in doing so. He has been advertising them for 10 years past, yet still thinks their merits are unknown, so he needs must give away hundreds of dollars to the people of Moose Jaw, to advertise them.

To see the manner in which sensible men allow themselves to be duped was amusing if not disgusting.

The result was that the pen agent took $250 of hard earned money out of the town, for the $25 he contributed to the Treasury.

Outside of the gambling phase of the matter the Fakir should have been arrested for "screaming, shouting, screeching" and attempting to sing on the public streets. His efforts to sing and play the Banjo would harrow up the strongest man's nerves.

We hope that such an open evasion of the town by-laws will not again be permitted.
